- Six inches wide by eight inches high.
- The photograph of the Ponch, anchored in Hong Kong harbor, was taken from a liberty launch by shipmate Dave Schneider in 1963.
- A piece of deck plate from the Ponch's 01 deck, starboard, just aft of the forward superstructure is attached with a magnet, and can be removed from the display plaque. It will readily go back into its mounting slot afterward.
- The display plaque can be mounted on a wall, or it can be stood up on a desk or table (as shown in the picture) with its self-contained stand,
